Mrs. Bagley Buried

Robert H. Bagley, county supervisor from Ione, received a sad message from a relative in Oakland, announcing the sudden and unexpected death of his aged mother at that city, which occurred at an early hour Monday morning.

Bagley had come to Jackson to attend the meeting of the board of supervisors at their regular monthly meeting, and had just turned his horse into the stable when he received a phone message which conveyed to him that news.

After explaining his message to the board, he asked to be excused and immediately returned to his home in Ione.

The remains of Mrs. Bagley were brought to Ione on Tuesday, and buried in the family plot at that city on Wednesday last.

New Society to Organize

A movement is on foot among the ladies of Jackson to meet in the superior court room on Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. to organize a social improvement club. All women are invited to attend this meeting and join this organization.

JACKSON CITY ITEMS

Local Happenings About Amador's County Seat

The editor of the Ledger left yesterday morning for San Francisco to attend the meeting of the California Press Association, which meets at the St. Francis hotel to-day, and will continue in session two days.

McGary has a large line of fine dress goods to select from.

Miss Alma Francis returned home this week, after a visit in Sacramento and other points.

J. F. Wilson, Dentist. Hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Phone—Office, Main 75; residence, black 394; Jackson.

Ed. Lawless, who has been visiting his many friends in this city for the past month, returned to his home in San Francisco last week.

Miss Nellie Dornan left last Sunday for San Francisco, where she will remain indefinitely.

Miss Grace Sutherland was a passenger on the outgoing stage Monday morning.

The ladies aid society of Jackson M. E. church, will give a bazaar on Saturday afternoon in the office of Geo. Brown. The society has done a vast amount of good for the local parish, and deserves patronage.

W. A. Miller, general manager of the California Electro-plating works, located in Stockton, returned to his home, after spending several days in Jackson as a guest of his nephew, J. F. Mortimer.

Found Dead In Bed

Henry Fullen expired suddenly at his place of business at Martell station, where he conducts a saloon, on Tuesday evening last. His death came as a shock to his many friends, who had seen him about all day Monday apparently the very best of health.

Fullen had been in Jackson on Tuesday afternoon, and made several purchases at local stores. He returned to his place of business and enjoyed a game of cards with a friend named Geo. Fisher on Wednesday evening, who remained in the saloon until it closed for the night, which was about 11 o'clock.

On Wednesday morning, when Fullen failed to open his place of business at the usual time, his sister, Mrs. Robinson, who resides nearby, was notified. After failing to receive any response to the rapping and calling, she asked a friend named Dufrene to crawl through a transome and investigate conditions.

Dufrene, upon entering the building, found Fullen in his bed cold in death. Coroner Potter was notified and came over at once. Nine men were empaneled as a jury. After viewing the body, the coroner advised the jury to have an autopsy held, owing to a few technical points which he claims.

Drs. Gall and Endicott performed a post-mortem on Wednesday afternoon. The jury, until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, they were ordered to again convene to render a verdict. After hearing the testimony of the Post-mortem examination, the verdict rendered was to the effect that death was due to an attack of apoplexy, after he had retired.

Fire Causes Excitement

A fire that for a time, threatened the home of Wm. J. Nettle, who resides at 44 Broadway, was discovered last night and hastily extinguished by a water bucket brigade. The blaze is supposed to have started in a woodpile in the rear of the building, and the flame was eating its way along the joists between the weather boards and the ceiling. Doors were torn off and the interior of the home pretty badly wrecked by use of picks and axes in trying to discover the burning sections.

Pool Parlor Well Liked

The National Billiard parlor is certainly doing a rushing business. The place is managed in a most orderly manner, and the manager, a young man named Jenkins, who came here from Napa, has made a host of friends by his courteous treatment during his short stay in our city.

The Ledger Appreciated

While the Ledger falls heir to lots of abuse from those whose tempers are ruffled and whose plans are disturbed by its uncompromising attitude in fighting local graft, the sentiment of the true citizens is overwhelmingly with it. Even were it not so, we should continue in the same path, because it is right, and for the best interest of the community. We frequently meet with encouragement of the practical kind, like the following:

"Inclosed find a check for $6 to send each of the following persons one year's subscription for the Ledger. Told them the good work you were doing for the taxpayers, and induced them to subscribe for the Ledger."

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Mrs. Dwyer Passes Away

Mrs. P. Dwyer a native of Ireland, aged 74 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs Chas Ginocchio, on Water street, on Wednesday morning, after being confined to her bed for more than nine weeks, as the result of an attack of paralysis.

She was preparing to leave the city for a trip to the coast and was stricken while walking near the National hotel in the morning of her intended departure. Since that time she had been lingering near death and her end was momentarily expected.

The deceased leaves four children to mourn her demise, Mrs Annie Hurst, Mrs Chas. Ginocchio, Charles Dwyer and William Dwyer, all of Jackson.

The funeral services were attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends. Services were held at St. Patrick's church, this morning, Rev. Father Gleason officiating. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

Services Enjoyed

Both morning and evening services at the Methodist Episcopal church of Jackson were conducted by the Rev. J. C. Duncan on Sunday last. The new pastor carries with him a most congenial disposition, full of integrity and candor. Rev. Duncan comes here from a flourishing charge which he left in Melrose. He is accompanied by his wife, who is a very motherly appearing woman, and who it can be said will make friends with all whom she may come in contact with.

Two grown children, a girl and a boy, remained in Melrose. The daughter is at present engaged for a term as pipe organist in a church in that city. She also has a large class of piano pupils. The son, a young man of 19 holds a fine position with a firm in Melrose.

High School Meeting

A well attended mass meeting was held in the superior court room, Jackson, on Wednesday evening, last, to consider plans for conducting a campaign for a county high school.

At 8 p. m. the Jackson Military band headed a procession of citizens and marched to the courthouse, the room was crowded to standing room only.

School superintendent Greenhalgh, acted as chairman of the meeting, James J. Wright of Jackson as secretary. After a few brief remarks, outlining the real cause for which the meeting was called, he asked for addresses from various persons in the room. Rev. John Shea spoke enthusiastically in favor of the movement, and was followed by district attorney Vicini, who begged that old political factions lay aside the partisan weapons, and help fight for this one issue that will be for the common good of all children. J. O. Duncan, and C. H. McKenney gave very interesting arguments in favor of the high school. Mrs C. E. Jarvis and Mrs W. E. Downs were also called on for comments.

A committee of ways and means were selected, Mrs E. E. Endicott was chairman, her associates named are Mrs J. W. Caldwell, Miss M. E. McCaskey, Mrs C. P. Vicini and Mrs B. C. Clark of Sutter Creek.

The committees on press work and publicity are Jas. J. Wright, Geo. A. Gordon and W. H. Greenhalgh and the editors of all the county papers.

Englebright In City

Congressman W. F. Englebright paid Jackson a visit yesterday, and remained in the city with friends over night, leaving for Placerville this morning. The congressman was dined at the home of Dr. A. M. Gall, and taken about the city and introduced to many citizens by Judge Wood and other leading party men.

Englebright deserves every miners' vote in the county, and he is promised staunch support by all who have followed up his many accomplishments during his past term of office.

Stops enroute to Placerville will be made, as he endeavors to see many of his Amador county friends.

CRUSHED IN MINE SHAFT

Nick Miloslavich Succumbs to Injuries at Hospital

Nicholas Miloslavich, aged 23 years, who resides at the National hotel, met with a terrible accident at the Argonaut mine, at which place he was employed as a miner, on Tuesday morning last. The manner of the accident, as we were informed, was that Miloslavich gave the bell for hoisting the skip from the 33 hundred level, and then jumped on the skip as it started up. For some unexplained reason, the young miner was thrown backward, and was instantly crushed between the skip's side and the wall of the shaft. The body fell in a heap on a sill in the shaft, as the skip passed on up.

The fact that the shaft is an incline one, is all that saved the unfortunate man from instant death.

The fellow worker, who was accompanying the victim on the skip, hastened back to the scene of the disaster after informing others of the accident, and the injured man was rescued from the dangerous position in which he was lying, and hurried to the surface, where the doctor was awaiting him, with a carriage. He was removed to the county hospital, and everything was done to relieve him of the terrible pains from which he was suffering, and to help him gain vitality enough to be able to undergo an operation which was decided upon as necessary by both Drs. Gall and Endicott to save his life.

The crushed ribs were pulled free from his lungs and heart, and his pulse became more normal immediately. He also told those about him that he could breathe much better. About 8 o'clock on Monday evening the patient became unconscious and remained in that condition during the night.

On Tuesday he revived, and consented to an operation. Dr. Endicott, assisted by Dr. Gall, performed the operation, which was successful from a surgical standpoint, but the vitality of the young man was so greatly exhausted that he died at 9:30 on Wednesday evening. The remains were taken to Huberty's undertaking parlor, and prepared for interment which will be held to-morrow from St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Frank Miloslavich, an older brother, who is the only relative in this county, was out in the country hunting all day Tuesday, and nearly collapsed when he was informed of his brother's condition upon his return in the evening.

A mother and three younger sisters of the family all live in the state of Dalmatia, in Austria, and are dependent upon the earnings of the two boys who came to this country to work in the mines.

They have been here five years, and quickly learned the English language and adapted themselves to American ways. The general conduct of the victim was commended by all who knew him. Frank had made all arrangements to send his brother Nicholas back to Austria, so as to be able to better protect and care for his aged mother and his younger sisters.

Tailor Shop Does Well

The cleaning and dyeing house opened in Jackson by Fred Heide and Thos Earle is reported to be in a flourishing condition. Fred Heide, who came here first and opened the place, has withdrawn from the work, and Thos Earle is at present sole proprietor. Heide left Jackson last week.

Beautiful long coats now on exhibition at McGary's.

MINE NEWS ALONG LODGE

Interesting Accounts of Mines Located In Amador Co.

Bunker Hill

Grading for the additional 20 stamps to the mill is completed and the work of making the concrete foundations is now in progress. Most of the lumber for the mill is on the ground.

Reward

This mine at Pine Grove is being operated by the Cranmer brothers, with very encouraging results. They are running their two stamp mill on the high grade ore which they have taken out. This property is looked upon as very promising by all mining men who have inspected it.

South Eureka.

It is reported that the clean-up for the past month yielded between $90,000 and $95,000 for the sixty stamp mill, an average of over $1500 to the stamp. No doubt an extra effort was made to secure a fat run, and probably the plates were cleaned more thoroughly than usual in prospect of the shut-down of the mill for several months to repair the shaft. The mill is idle, and shaft-repairing is underway.

South Spring Hill

J. R. Tregloan, who is in charge of the South Spring Hill properties, near Amador City, has been in the county several days, accompanied by a mining expert, named John McGee of Tonopah, Nev., whose business is to investigate this mining claim with a view to report to a capitalist, Charles Kirchin of Tonopah, who with others, is thinking of investing in this county. He was taken all over the mines, and also visited the Bunker Hill, Original Amador, Kennedy and other big mines. He was very favorably impressed with the vast mineral resources of this section. He frankly admitted that nowhere else had he seen such gold-bearing ledges as here, except possibly one mine in Montana. The South Spring Hill has been idle for about 20 years. It was at one time the most productive mine in the county, and there is every reason to believe that it will respond again in liberal yield to the expenditure of the necessary capital to develop it properly. In the days of its prime, the owners were offered a million and a half for it, and declined to sell. The eastern owners, distributed the whole output in dividends to the stockholders, without providing a surplus fund to meet any contingency, so that when a barren streak was met with, which has been the history of every big mine in Amador county, there was no money available for exploration, and the owners were unwilling to assess themselves and so the shut-down occurred.

Band Holds Fine Ball

Jackson Military band gave a first class ball on Saturday evening last, which was in every way a surprising and gratifying success.

The band is certainly deserving of patronage in its undertakings, as it means considerable to any city to have an organization that can be called on without feeling ashamed to have it play for any occasion.

Forced to Quit

The new moving picture show, belonging to Richards of Angels Camp, which started up in Sutter Creek, with the intention of permanently locating there, was compelled to quit, owing to the unfavorable conditions presented. The three identified with the outfit passed through Jackson last Saturday on their way to Calaveras county. The handicap of $2.50 per night that they were required to pay for license while Ratto was allowed to run by the free grace of the Amador county authorities, was too much for them to buck up against. They exhibited an attachment for $112 levied against them by the local electric light and power company for electric power, etc. They were running only two weeks, and of course the electric service could not have amounted to that much in that space of time. They left their paraphernalia in the hands of the authorities, and trotted home, bearing with them, however, a very poor opinion of the "square deal" as dealt out in Amador county.

POLITICAL HOUSE-CLEANING.

Aside from all considerations of partizanship, it is about time the people of Amador did some political house-cleaning. Election days are provided for this purpose. At the expiration of every four years the power reverts back to the voters of electing officials to take charge of public business for the ensuing four years. The opportunity is thus afforded of rewarding such servants who have proved faithful to the trust reposed in them, and of discharging those who have proved unsatisfactory in looking after the common weal. It is not merely a question of whether republicans or democrats shall fill the offices for the next term. With most of the voters that is a matter of little concern, compared with the overshadowing issue whether a small clique of designing politicians and officials shall be permitted to dominate in county affairs, and continue abuses which have become well-nigh intolerable to every right-thinking citizen. "Down with government by self-seeking bosses, grown arrogant by long continuance in power," is the battle-cry that should appeal with peculiar force to every honest voter when he prepares his ballot in the solitude of the election booth on the 8th of November. From a local standpoint every other question pales into insignificance by the side of this. The "square deal" is the proposition that is up to the citizens of Amador county today, and upon its solution at the ballot-box will largely depend whether this county so favored by a wealth of natural resources, shall enjoy a reasonable measure of prosperity in the years to come.

The readers of the Ledger will recall a number of instances of graft exposed by this paper at different times during the past term. It was not a party matter with us, for the developments have come when no political campaign was in sight. But the carnival of graft has survived all assaults. Stemmed in one form it has reappeared in another, and as things are constituted, there is apparently no break in the endless chain.

In face of all that has been said, not a single inquiry has been started to ascertain the facts. There has been no move for vindication by a full investigation at the hands of an impartial tribunal. A few months ago a grand jury report declared that conditions at the county hospital were deplorably bad. It was the duty of that body to report such things, and for the comfort of the inmates and the credit of the county, it was up to the supervisors to investigate the complaint. Instead of this, they slammed the grand jury by moving that 'the report be signed, framed and draped in heavy mourning.' A man is found to be doing business without a license and owing $500 for back dues. He is well able to pay for the protection of government. But he has a political pull in the fact that there are a number of voters in the family. Now, if Ratto had owed either of the officers a like sum of money he would have been notified "Please remit." No ipse dixit poverty plea—trumped up for the occasion—would have passed muster in lieu of coin. But the money was owing to the people generally, composed mainly of individuals who have a hard time in meeting the yearly exactions of the tax gatherer, but who collectively are deemed to be rich, and a few hundred dollars more or less of "plucking" for the benefit of the paupered individual with the pull would make little difference. There was not a scrap of writing before them for relief, no legal testimony taken, no opportunity given for outside remonstrance. The district attorney suggested a blanket motion for a quit-claim on the part of the county. It was gleefully jumped at as a proper outcome, and a protest against this plan was greeted with a storm of abuse. A free license was also given for the future. Next the tax collector made application to relieve W. H. Glenn from payment of one overdue wayside liquor license, and a free permit for the future. It was so ordered by the accommodating board, notwithstanding there was nothing on file to show that the beneficiary himself was seeking exemption. Probably the relief was intended to shield someone else rather than the principal. It has come to a pretty pass when officers charged with the collection of county revenue take the initiative in a scheme of non-collection. And when appealed to, the officials refuse to take any action, criminally or civilly, to stop this business.

It is up to the voters to stay the further development of this shameless policy.

The "silly Willie-isms" in the Dispatch of last week, attributing the ventilation of the license graft to personal spite are too sickening to demand notice.

The testing file has been less simple than one would expect, and machine testing, substituted a few years ago for hand testing by expert workmen, has given results far from uniform. It has condemned many files known to be good. At last it was decided to test the machine itself, and Prof. W. Ripper, British engineer, reports that many experiments have been made, and that some have given normal results, while others have shown extraordinary differences in the cutting power of files appearing to be exactly alike, and even of the opposite sides of the same file. The conclusion has been reached that filing in one groove seems occasionally to develop a resistant glaze on the work, preventing further cutting, or at least retarding it. To remedy this, the machine has been given an addition causing the file to change its path from stroke to stroke, as in hand filing, and the result is much greater apparent accuracy in the tests made.

A novel dental surgery has attracted much attention at the International Dental Exhibition in London. A prominent part of the equipment has been a maple switchboard with aluminum fittings, the dozen or more switches controlling the electric current for such novel appliances as an electrical mouth lamp, an electric cautery, for cutting away the overgrowth of gums, an electrical heater for keeping antiseptic solutions at blood temperature, an electric root-drier, an electric hot-air syringe for massaging diseased gums and at the same time spraying them with antiseptics, an electric air compressor, an electric lathe, and so on.

A new German induction coil surpasses the famous Spottishwood coil and gives a spark 50 inches long. It requires a current of 30 amperes at 110 volts. The iron core is 80 inches long; the primary coil consists of 6 layers of copper tape, making altogether 792 turns, and the secondary coil contains 100 miles of copper wire about 1-100 of an inch in thickness.

Moving x-ray pictures have been given special attention by J. Carvallo, of the Marey Institute in Paris, and he claims to have overcome the difficulties, including that of producing instantaneous impressions on the photographic film. He has successfully shown the digestive processes of chickens, mice, frogs and other animals. The food of the animals was mixed with basic bismuth nitrate, and special cinematographic apparatus was devised for taking and reproducing the successive views of the stomach and intestines during digestion. With this apparatus, exposures of the intermittently moving film can be made at intervals varying from the small fraction of a second to an hour, the process being continued automatically for periods ranging up to a week or more. The film is made extra-sensitive by a coating of double thickness, and the pictures are of unusual size—about 2½ inches square. The x-ray are produced by a self regulating bulb, with a Carpentier induction coil having an interrupter of great rapidity. The breaks are less than 1-1000 of a second, and the current closing is adjustable by several springs, 1-100 of a second giving good pictures with a moderate current.

A tubular power boat lately constructed is about 30 feet long over all, but draws only 3 inches of water when carrying several passengers, and has a speed of 18 knots an hour. A 6 horsepower petrol engine furnishes motive power. The two closed cigar-shaped tubes are of galvanized iron, each 1 foot in diameter and divided into three water-tight compartments, and they are coupled together to support a railed platform 14 feet long. The engine is on a second platform 3½ feet wide. The rudder is placed between the tubes at the bow, and thus effects steering with little loss of speed in turning.

The cost of plowing by steam, horse and electricity has been compared in late German experiments. The working day in each case was 12 hours, and heavy soil was allowed to a depth of 12 inches. The cost of 60 acres was about $200 by steam; $160 by horse; $145 by two-machine electric plow; and $25 by a one-machine electric plow.

The electron having been proven a fundamental part of matter and a constituent of the atom in every element, Dr. J. A. Crowther, of Cambridge, Eng., has made experiments to analyze the atom, and find out how many electrons it contains. The "B" rays of radium, which are simply negative electrons moving with such velocity that they can pass through quite thick solid materials, were selected as a means of analysis. These rapidly moving electrons penetrate the atom, and, coming into collision with electrons already there, are deflected from their original path. Every new collision causes a new deflection of the B particle in its passage through a sheet of material, can be measured and this makes it possible to calculate the number of particles with which it has been collided. By this method, it was shown that the hydrogen atom, the lightest known, contains just three electrons, the number in heavier atoms being proportionally greater.

Milk powder is produced in the process of Lecomte and Lainville by the application of cold instead of heat. Either whole or on skimmed milk is poured into rectangular vessels like those used in ice-making, and is cooled to about 28.5 deg. Fahr., in such a way that it becomes fine snow instead of a solid mass. The frozen milk is then revolved very rapidly in a centrifugal separator. The machine retains the snow crystals, but expels the other parts of the milk as a soft paste, containing still a little water. The paste is placed in a moderately heated drying room to finish the desiccation. Only water is removed, and analysis shows that the milk powder contains all other constituents quite unaltered.

In the distillation of sewage sludge in the course of laboratory experiment, A. H. Valentine, British chemist, has obtained 7 to 12 per cent of grease valued at $60 to $100 a ton. The residue, which burned readily, had nearly as much nitrogen as the original sludge. The chemical and physical properties suggested some value as a fertilizer, and trial on carrots, beets and potatoes resulted in an increase of 15 to 25 per cent in weight of yield.

A Rare Animal

Attracts Attention

A rare animal has been on exhibition during the week at Mat Zwinge's place, that has attracted considerable attention and no one seems to be able to classify it. The animal was shot by Melvin Zwinge on the Walter cattle range on Blue creek and is apparently about two thirds grown, as another similar one was with it at the time, very likely its mother and considerably large. The animal has been variously named as a Pine Marten, Otter, Weasel, Civet Cat etc., but though it has some of the characteristics of all of these, it does not exactly answer to any of them. It answers the Natural History description of the Ichneumon of South Africa more nearly than anything else.

The animal had been thrown away after being shot by Zwinge, as worthless, but Jas Nuland happened to be on a visit to the camp notices its peculiarities, had it skinned and brought the skin down with him.

Mat Zwinge, who is an expert in that line has mounted the animal and many have since examined it.

One feature, the stout tapering tail, that marks most animals of this class is wanting, and the tail in this case is long and slim, ending with a plume like the lion. Neither is it a furbearing animal, the hair being extremely coarse, like a dog's. It has short rounded ears closely fitted to its head, and the long pointed nose and long neck of the weasel. Its measurements as it now stands mounted are as follows:

Length from tip to tip, 47 inches; length of tail, 22 inches; body, 25 inches; from shoulder to tip of nose, 9 inches from shoulder to ear, 6 inches; height, 11 inches; girth, 12½ inches; end of nose to tip of ear, 6 inches. It is a dull grayish color above shading to coal black beneath, the legs being black and much longer than the other family. It has cat claws, five toes, and is a tree climber.—Prospect.

NEW ORLEANS FIGHTING HARD

Powerful Railroad Influence at Work for Southern City

Every little while you hear some knocker say that New Orleans is doing everything to get the big fair in 1915 and that San Francisco is doing nothing. This week there was generally circulated a story that it had been found by our Chamber of Commerce that 90 per cent of the big commercial organizations of the country were tied up to New Orleans and that the other 10 per cent were non-committal. Now, there wasn't any truth in that story, and there isn't any truth in the statement that the New Orleans committee is doing far more effective work than is our own committee. Our committee is in reality doing much better work than the New Orleans committee. But there is a great and powerful influence at work in favor of New Orleans, and it is that influence that must be fought hardest if we are to win.

I refer to the influence of the Illinois Central, the Southern Railway and other railroad lines that would be specially benefited by having the fair at New Orleans. Our own Southern Pacific has a terminus at New Orleans as well as at San Francisco. So it is a good deal tied up. But the Western Pacific, Salt Lake road and Santa Fe are in a position to help us out a lot if they will pitch in and combat the influence of those Southern and Middle Western roads.—Oakland Tribune.

NEW CALIFORNIANS, ATTENTION!

If you are a Californian, newly arrived in this State, you can assist in the effort to bring to the Pacific Coast the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915. Get the spirit of "Post Card Week" and have your Eastern friends and acquaintances and relatives join with you in a postal bombardment of the Congressman or Congressmen most likely to give attention to your appeal. When San Francisco wins you will have the satisfaction of having contributed materially to the result.

A Lively Contest.

San Francisco and New Orleans are engaged in a lively contest for the proposed Panama-Pacific International Exposition of 1915. The California Legislature was convened in special session to authorize $10,000,000 for the enterprise. The citizens of San Francisco have raised $7,500,000 on the side, giving them a total of $17,500,000 to bid, with more in sight if necessary. New Orleans has up to date secured pledges for but $7,850,000 to finance the exposition. Both cities are putting up a good fight and it demonstrates the remarkable civic spirit of both. May the best man win. — Pittsburg Post.

In acting promptly and as a unit the citizens of San Francisco and the people of California show the energy and spirit which would naturally entitle them to the award of an exposition of progress such as that of 1915 promises to be.—Spokesman-Review.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and raked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamene, Ark., "when all else failed, and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the king of all coughs and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup—all throat and lung troubles. 50 cents and $1. Trial bottle free at Spagnoli's drug store.

Pastor Stricken Ill

Rev. Thos Shea was unable to hold services in the Episcopal church on Sunday last, owing to the fact that he was stricken seriously ill while on a visit to Chico.

The rector returned to his home on Friday evening, and was compelled to take his bed. Dr. Endicott was called in and found his patient suffering from a disordered stomach. Rev. Shea is able to be about again, and has just finished a concrete walk to the front porch of the parsonage.

Prominent Mason Dead

Pierce was a celebrated Mason, holding the position of grand master of free and accepted Masons of California, besides holding many other Masonic honors.

Aged Resident Dead

Mrs Sarah Shairer, who was a resident of Plymouth for many years, passed away at the hospital early on Monday morning last.

Mrs Shairer was 82 years of age, and was afflicted with cancer, which disease hastened her death. She was a native of England, and emigrated to Plymouth in 1850. Her husband, Fred Shairer, died several years ago and was buried in the Plymouth cemetery, to which place the remains of Mrs Shairer was taken for interment yesterday, and the body placed by the side of the remains of her husband.

Middle Bar Bridge

No action was taken by the supervisors of Amador county at their last meeting relating to the repairing of the Middle bar bridge across the Mokelumne river.

The bridge was condemned recently, and notices posted on the structure warning the public of its dangerous condition. County school superintendent of Calaveras county, communicated with W. H. Greenhalgh, superintendent of schools of this county, and informed him that the pupils of Middle Bar school who crossed the bridge, were in constant danger of going down with the bridge. He reported the bridge to be in such a dangerous condition that it was liable to collapse of its own weight at any time. Greenhalgh filed a complaint to the Amador board of supervisors and chairman Burke immediately phoned over to the board Calaveras, of which were in session at San Andreas, inquiring what steps they intended to take in the matter. He was informed that the Calaveras board would consider the affair and let this board know what action had been taken later on. It is unofficially rumored that Calaveras county intends to abandon the structure.

It is in time of sudden mishap or accident that Chamberlain's liniment can be relied upon to take the place of the family doctor, who cannot always be found at the moment. Then it is that Chamberlain's liniment is never found wanting. In cases of sprains, cuts, wounds and bruises, Chamberlain's liniment takes the soreness and drives away the pain. Sold by all dealers.

Census of Irrigation

Harry Barnes, a civil engineer from Berkeley, was in this section in the early part of the week, compiling a census for irrigation for the department of Commerce and Labor.

All irrigated tracts were listed, and general report sent in on the condition of the water ditches throughout the county. The report calls for the location and character of irrigation enterprises their method of construction, and amount of capital invested, the price at which water rights and land rights are obtainable, and the quantity of water used.

Kills a Murderer

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, causing constipation, headache, biliousness, chills. 25c at Spagnoli's drug store.

Liens Foreclosed.

On Saturday the mechanics and miners' liens against the property of the Keystone mine at Amador City, were foreclosed. W. G. Snyder represented the lienholders, about one hundred in number. The Keystone and the California Consolidated Mines Co. was also represented by an attorney, but no serious opposition was made to the priority of the liens of the employed. It will be remembered that the Keystone was operated by the Consolidated mines company, who purchased from J. M. McDonald under an agreement to pay the purchase price in instalments. The vendor had a lien upon the mine for the large sum still due upon the purchase price, and the question arose as to which lien should take precedence. But it was discovered that there was nothing to be gained by pressing this priority matter in behalf of the vendor, because the miners and other workmen should have the prior right to collect wages to the extent of $100 each. So it was deemed best to let the employees foreclose their liens. The total amount of these claims will foot up nearly $15,000. This amount the other claimants will have to pay before they can acquire title through their own liens. It is expected that the property will be sold to satisfy these liens. There is no doubt the claims will be paid before the statute limitations expires. The property is too valuable to be sacrificed for such a comparatively small amount.

SUPERIOR COURT.

HON. JUDGE F. V. WOOD

People vs John Delucchi—Information filed charging defendant with assault with deadly weapon, with intent to commit murder.

People vs J M Coffman—Information filed charging defendant with assault with deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

Marie Vukovich vs Catherine Donovan—Case tried, judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

Camble vs California Consolidated Mines Co.—By consent the demurrer overruled, and time to answer waived by defendant. Default of Lenderman and Chichizola Estate Co entered. Findings waived in open court, judgment for plaintiff in accordance with complaint.

Amador Keystone M Co vs Cal Con Mines Co.—Petition for appointment of receiver heard and matter submitted to court for decision. Complaint for intervention dismissed at request of W G Snyder.

Surveying Parties.

Two surveying parties have been at work during the past week around Pine Grove and Volcano. They are very silent as to their purposes. It is believed that one party is in the interest of the proposed scheme to make a reservoir out of Volcano basin, for power and irrigation purposes. The dam would be over 100 feet high, and the reservoir when full would cover an area of about two square miles, with an average depth of water of 80 feet. It is claimed the storage would be sufficient to maintain a constant flow of several thousand inches.

The other surveying party is said to be in the interest of the projected extension of the railroad to the timber belt. All necessary data is being gathered for the information of those financing this scheme. A large quantity of the timber area has been purchased under an agreement to clear the timber off in a given number of years. On some of the land the limit will expire within the next five years. Whatever timber remains standing at that time will revert back to the landowners. So that something has to be done speedily to protect the rights of the purchasers of the timber.

A Costly Prisoner

August Borello, convicted of arson in setting fire to the Summit house on Sutter Hill over two and a half years ago, is still confined in the county jail awaiting the outcome of his appeal to the supreme court. He was convicted over two years ago. His attorney took an appeal to the district court of appeals. That tribunal rendered a decision sustaining the lower court. The attorney for defendant was not content to let it go at that. He appealed for rehearing of the case by the supreme court and the outcome of that appeal is now awaited. The main point upon which a reversal of the judgment is asked is based upon the tactics of the prosecution in extorting from the accused a so-called confession by the sweating process. This case furnishes a remarkable instance of the evil of sweating prisoners. Since his conviction Borello has been a charge upon the county for more than two years. His board alone, at 75c per day, has cost the taxpayers close to $600, and the end is not yet. This serves to show that the third degree or any other degree of sweating accused persons is not only beneath the dignity of the people of the state, but that it does not pay.

It's the World's Best

No one has ever made a salve, ointment or balm to compare with Bucklen's Arnica salve. It's the one perfect healer of cuts, corns, burns, bruises, sores, scalds, boils, ulcers, eczema, or salt rheum. For sore eyes, cold sores, chapped hands, or sprains, it's supreme. Infalible for piles. Only 25c at Spagnoli's drug store.

Sawmill to Close.

After a very prosperous run the Tiger creek saw mill, belonging to the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, will shut down to-morrow. They have employed about 60 men all told during the summer. With up-to-date methods of carrying on the lumber business, they have turned out a vast quantity of lumber estimated at several million feet, which has been piled up in the company yards at the mouth of Tiger creek, about four miles from the saw mill. The lumber, as fast as it is cut, is hauled to the yard by Swift's teams. From the yards it is floated in the ditch to the points where needed. The lumber cut is exclusively for the use of the company along the lines of its canals and at the power house. One season's run is calculated to last the company for three or four years. Henry Chapman, who has been employed at the saw mill, came down early in the week, and all the men will likely be out by the end of the week.

The jury in the case of the people vs Ira R. Allen, accused of the murder of L. P. Coscia, were deliberating as this paper went to press last week. Judge Arnot finished his instructions at 2 o'clock p. m. on Friday. Walter Miller was appointed elisor, and the jury were taken to a convenient room in the Masonic building to deliberate.
